

We're united in bringing you the best.

As part of the Wellmont Regional Cancer Network, the Southwest Virginia Cancer Center has access to the best and brightest from medical centers, clinics and physician offices across the region.

A perfect example of the sum of the whole being greater than its parts, the Wellmont Regional Cancer Network unites primary-care physicians, oncology specialists, expert nurses and other healthcare professionals to bring you the most advanced cancer care in the area. When you visit the Southwest Virginia Cancer Center, you will benefit from this collection of sophisticated services and treatment options administered by professionals who are experts in their field.

Knowledge is power.

There are steps you can take to reduce your cancer risk. There also are many misconceptions and myths regarding cancer and its treatment. So we believe outreach and education are important tools in bettering the health of our community.

Our caregivers and advocates stand ready to help educate area churches, businesses and civic groups with a variety of cancer topics. One popular venue is a "lunch and learn" format in which a speaker gives a presentation to a group during its lunch hour.

For more information or to schedule a speaker, please call the center at (276) 679-8052.

The chemotherapy area is rich with ambient light and a mountain view.

You can help us make a difference.

As a mission-driven hospital network, Wellmont Health System is a charitable organization just like any other 501(c)(3). We provide healthcare services regardless of a patient's ability to pay, funding millions of dollars of care each year. Our hospitals are owned and governed by the communities we serve.

Wellmont Foundation is the fundraising arm of Wellmont Health System, serving all of the organization's hospitals and service lines throughout the region. The foundation has two primary functions: to actively seek donations through carefully measured activities and to make sure all donations received are used properly.

Healthcare operating margins are small, and hospital needs are many. But we believe our community is the best place to live and work – and we believe our neighbors, friends and families deserve nothing less than the best.

There are two key questions we must all ask ourselves: What does it take to have the best healthcare possible, and what can I do to help?

To that end, your support is more important than ever. With the challenges of today's healthcare environment, charitable giving is more essential than ever to provide an increased margin for excellence. From the rapid pace of technology to decreases in reimbursements to a looming shortage of providers, our challenges are many.

Your support allows our hospitals to think in terms of possibilities rather than limitations. Your support empowers our devoted, energetic and capable providers to achieve new heights of service excellence. Your support equips our doctors, nurses and technicians to meet very real needs that can make the ultimate difference, perhaps even in your life or the life of someone you love. Your gifts result in saved lives and renewed hope.

Please consider giving to the Southwest Virginia Cancer Center Fund – you can make a difference. Your support will help the center provide enhanced treatment options, along with prevention, education and screening programs.

A towering great hall welcomes the patients and family members.
